

Five Easy Steps to Celebrate Roots & Shoots Day of Peace

Step 1: Plan a project to promote Peace Initiatives.

Here are some ideas to get you started:

- Volunteer to act as an impartial mediator between friends or family members that are having a disagreement.
- Organize and lead a nature appreciation walk to educate your community about local flora and fauna.
- Visit our website at www.rootsandshoots.org to find out about other programs that promote peace.

Step 2: Organize your Peace Day Celebration.

For information on Peace Day events in your area, visit the International Day of Peace website at www.internationaldayofpeace.org. Or consider planning your own Peace Day event—a parade, a school assembly or a dramatic or musical performance.

Step 3: Share your projects and Peace Day plans with the world.

Invite your classmates, friends and family to your Peace Day celebration. Post updates about your projects in a public location at school or your meeting place. Write to your local newspapers and television stations advising them of your ongoing Peace Initiative projects and Peace Day event. Don't forget to keep us in the loop too by emailing us at roots-shoots@janegoodall.org.

Step 4: Make and fly a Giant Peace Dove at your event.

For instructions on how to make one of these amazing recycled art creations, please see the Puppet Instructions at <http://www.rootsandshoots.org/resource/docs/campaigns/PeaceDoveInstructions.pdf>.

Step 5: Celebrate and report your successes!

Reflect and embrace your peace building accomplishments. Submit a project report at www.rootsandshoots.org.
