We hope to ease misunderstandings between people and coyotes, and other carnivores. We hope to show that these animals really do impact everything in their environment, from the trees to the rivers.

Action time! What will your project do and how will you do it? What you type here will be visible to the public!

We want to raise awareness about how coyotes serve an important part in our ecosystem and impact everything from trees to water. We want to help people understand that predators should be respected, but not disliked. We will work with our class and park services in order to learn the proper information to share with others.
