NEW GENERATION OF COMPASSIONATE
LEADERS WHO WILL MAKE THE RIGHT
CHOICES FOR OUR PLANET.

Get involved by participating in our free, online course for educators who share our vision of a better world for people, other animals, and the environment. Growing Compassionate Young Leaders is an innovative professional development course that teaches participants how to identify and implement a service learning campaign with youth using the Roots & Shoots program model. Through the program, discover the traits of a compassionate leader and how to foster them in your young people.

WHAT THE COURSE PROVIDES:

Access to more than 13 hours of training and activities with Roots & Shoots staff, service learning experts, and Dr. Jane Goodall

Lesson plans, activity guides, and tutorials to use to inspire and activate youth as you lead them in a service learning campaign

Access to to a global network of change-makers like you as well as funding, classroom kits, and other additional support

For an optional fee, a course certificate is available upon course completion. (Financial aid is available.)

COURSE INFORMATION:

- The 5-week course runs year-round so take it when it's convenient for you.
- If something comes up and you miss a deadline, you'll be able to return later and pick up where you left off.
